

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Wednesday 10 December - Morning

8-9	Registration – 4th floor
9-9.30	WELCOME – UNH416
9.30-10.30	PLENARY – Dr Pia Lane, University of Oslo - UNH416
10.30-11	MORNING TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416	UNH241
11-11.30	F. Cox et al Is there evidence for region specific vowel variation in /hVd/ word list data from AusTalk?	J. Bednall & R. Sitorus With many roles come many responsibilities: language centres and the implementation of school and community language programs	W. Arka Categorial multifunctionality in Flores languages: Descriptive, typological and theoretical issues	E. Mayer From lo to le : Spanish clitic systems on the move
11.30-12	G. Docherty et al Variability in the realization of vowels in West Australian English	C. Bow Shoehorning Yolŋu language names into the ISO 639-3 standard.	J. Moodie Word-classes in Lopit – some adjectives can be anything	A. Diez de Auz Second Language Acquisition of the French clitic system
12-12.30	S. Kingstone A first look at the perceptual dialectology of Australian English	L. Green 'A living archive: celebrating linguistic, biological, and cultural diversity through a botanical garden'	B. Palmer Marked absolutive or topic? Case and clefts in Mono-Alu.	H. Peters 'Come dine with me': How do Jamaican learners of French express verb of movement constructions?
12.30-2	LUNCH – 4th Floor

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Wednesday 10 December - Afternoon

	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416	UNH241
2-2.30	D. Osgarby The dative and genitive cases in Ngarnka and Wambaya: Another case of demonstrative encliticisation	S. Richard "And the next minute ": Some sociolinguistic insights into the narrative uses of the Aust. Eng. present perfect	B. Kelly et al The use of speech acts in Murrinhpatha language socialisation	E. Piñeros The phonological weight of Spanish syllables
2.30-3	R. Pensalfini & F. Meakins Gender bender: Disagreement in Jingulu noun class marking	J. Rendle-Short Dispreferred responses when texting: Delaying that 'no' response	L. Davidson The interactional significance of repetition in children's Murrinhpatha	A. Herrero de Haro Does /e/ split into four vowel phonemes in Western Almeria? Effects of /s/, /r/, and /θ/ deletion in this variety of Eastern Andalusian Spanish
3-3.30	C. Bonnin Intonation, prosody and the clitic in Yukulta (Tangkic)'	W. Chor Epistemic modulations and speakers stance in Cantonese conversations	J. Vaughan & G. Wigglesworth Codes and classrooms: The interaction of home and school language(s) in four Aboriginal communities	M. Delicado Cantero The derivation of Spanish preposition-complementizer 'conglomerates'
3.30-4	AFTERNOON TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416	UNH241
4-4.30	M. Carroll Markedness vs. defaults: A note on an organising principle of morphology. The case of stem selection in Ngkolmpu.	S. Beer Marriage of methods: Using Corpus Linguistics to inform Discourse Analysis	M. Ellison & N. Fay Morphological complexity responds to multilingualism not age-of-acquisition	C. Travis & R. Torres Cacoullos What do post-verbal subject pronouns do in discourse?
4.30-5	B. Collins Squib on Polish Yers : An overview of what we know, and how we got there	S. Alzahrani Zahrani Spoken Arabic: Tense or Aspect	M. Mathew et al The use of prosodic gestures during parent-child discourse interactions	J. Hajek To ISC or not to ISC – that is the question. On allomorphy in so-called –IRE verbs in Italian

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Thursday 11 December - Morning

9-10	PLENARY – Professor Paul Smolensky, Johns Hopkins University - UNH416
10-10.30	MORNING TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416
10.30-11	L. Stirling et al. The preposition at from a spatial language, cognition, and information systems perspective	T. Ennever "We can't stop and we won't stop": A closer look at the phonetic variation of Gurindji obstruents	R. Hendery Simulation of creole genesis: do we need the concept of 'prestige'?
11-11.30	E. Bowen Now and then in Australian languages: A semantic typology	C. Jones et al Variation in fricative production by young adult Kriol speakers from Barunga NT	D. Schokkin Contact-induced change in an Oceanic language: the Tok Pisin-Paluai case
11.30-12	L. Vo An NSM approach to QUAN HẸ ('Relationships') and THỨ BẬC ('footings') as cultural schemata in Vietnamese interactions	R. Robinson et al Perception of intervocalic consonants in first language by speakers of an Australian Aboriginal language and speakers of Standard Australian English	H. Koch Reconstruction of kin terms in the Victorian languages
12-12.30	C. Goddard The lexical and grammatical semantics of words for "surprise" and "interest" in English	F. Low et al Comparing the Acoustic Space of English and Australian Languages using the Long-term Average Speech Spectrum	M. Gindidis Invisible to Visible: A phenomenological study of Australian Community Languages Teachers
12.30-1.30	LUNCH – 4th Floor
1.30-2	Poster Session

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Thursday 11 December - Afternoon

	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416	UNH240
2-2.30	C. Travis & A. Lindstrom Subject expression in spoken English: Testing hypothesized genre differences	S. Mandal et al Perceiving markedness: Dichotic listening and hemispheric integration in perceptual processing	S. Greenhill & N. Evans Pronoun paradigms, syncretism and language phylogeny.	NSM WORKSHOP
2.30-3	W. Marron Online dating profiles of gay Asian men and gay white men: Linguistic expressions of identity, ethnicity, social and sexual health.	M. Wu Perception of Cantonese tones by native Mandarin Speakers: the Influences of Native Properties	R. Mailhammer & M. Harvey Towards Proto-Australian: Gunwinyguan–Iwaidjan sound correspondences	NSM WORKSHOP
3-3.30	S. Sherwood The social distribution of potential suffix allomorphs in Japanese verbs	T. Boyd Literate adults and real word lexical stress identification outside minimal pairs	S. Kalyan Intersecting subgroups in Indo- European	NSM WORKSHOP
3.30-4	AFTERNOON TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416	UNH240
4-4.30	B. Palmer et al Towards a typology of linguistic expressions of spatial Frame of Reference	L. Clark Recency effects on word-medial /t/ in New Zealand English	C. Chambers Mixing middle men: The language mixing practices and the expression of possession in the medieval account books of London trade guilds	NSM WORKSHOP
4.30-5	J. Lum & J. Schlossberg Computer-based elicitation games in the field: The Virtual Atoll Task	N. Kwon The frequency code hypothesis in counter-universal magnitude symbolism	A. Severin When good linguistics goes bad: Radical descriptivism on the internet	NSM WORKSHOP
5-5.30	Book Launch – 4th floor
5.30-7	ALS AGM - UNH416
7 onwards	Conference Reception – Conservatorium of Music

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Friday 12 December - Morning

9-10	PLENARY – Professor Isabelle Bril, Lacito-CNRS - UNH416
10-10.30	MORNING TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416
10.30-11	Q. Hussein et al Do temporal and spectral measures differentiate the contrast between Punjabi retroflex and dental?	N. Fay & T.M. Ellison Human communication systems evolve via cumulative cultural adaptation: an empirical demonstration	I. Mushin Clause-initial or turn-initial?: Grammar, conversation and the Garrwa particle ngala .
11-11.30	A. German et al Perceptual analysis of epenthetic ‘r’ in linking and intrusive contexts in Australian English	E. Round & J. Macklin-Cordes Next-generation typological variables: from theory to practice, and back again	B. Collins Aspectual variation in Ngandi narratives
11.30-12	J. Clothier Heading south: a comparison of the phonetic realisation of word final -er between Anglo-Celtic and Lebanese heritage groups in Melbourne	A. Schembri et al Directionality in British Sign Language is not obligatory: The importance of corpus data when considering “agreement”	K. Horrack Benefactives and external possession in Wubuy: Marking the affectedness of alienable possessors
12-12.30	B. Volchok Intergenerational vowel change in several Russian-English speakers	S. Ishihara A Comparative Study of Likelihood Ratio Based Forensic Text Comparison in Procedures:	R. Nordlinger Incorporation and polysynthesis in the Daly
12.30-2	LUNCH – 4th Floor

ALS 2014 PROGRAM

Friday 12 December - Afternoon

	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416
2-2.30	C. Patterson & W. Steed Cans from Cairns: Australia's latest phonological development	A. Azkarai & M. del Pilar Garcia Mayo L1 use/functions by child EFL learners during task-based interaction	I. Giblin Prosodic disambiguation of in-situ wh-phrases
2.30-3	J. Mansfield The integration of English phonology into Murrinhpatha	N. Yoshimura et al Binding in L2 English infinitives revisited	G. Windschuttel Switch-reference and the subject in Yagara
3-3.30	E. Round et al Yidiny final deletion is not conditioned by morpheme boundaries	S. Alqahtani The effect of motivational strategy training on Saudi EFL teachers' motivational behaviours	A. Naess Topic, focus and theme: Two levels of pragmatic prominence in Äiwoo word order
3.30-4	AFTERNOON TEA – 4th Floor
	UNH419	UNH421	UNH416
4-4.30	N. San & M. Turpin Acoustic correlates of stress in Kaytetye words	M. Ross Threshold concepts in linguistics: a case study	J. Wafer Verbal "arts of memory" in south-eastern Australia: Retracing the poetics of song in the Hunter River-Lake Macquarie language
4.30-5	F. Cottet et al Lectal variation in the pronunciation of prestopped nasal phonemes in Kaytetye	W. Steed & W. Pearce Phonological awareness for linguistics teaching	C. Grant Vital signs: Adapting language vitality & endangerment tools to assess music endangerment